By LAMH Recycle

LAMH Recycle is a social enterprise in Motherwell who provide recycling services. LAMH Recycle has helped thousands of community members to acquire employability skills, build a CV, and give them a meaningful employment opportunity where they can feel part of a team.

They have over twenty years of providing safe, efficient, and SEPA registered IT Waste Management and WEEE Recycling services across Central Scotland. The materials they collect for recycling include; aluminium and steel cans/scrap, cardboard, paper and glass.

They also collect IT equipment ensuring secure data wipe and where permission is given, will refurbish and reuse IT equipment for resale at low cost to the local community. Where it is not possible to reuse, the IT equipment is dismantled with care to maximise recovery from individual components and material to ensure the highest possible levels of recyclability.
